CALL TO ARMS SOUNDED FOR ITALIANS AND MANY LEAVE

Only One From Charleroi, Frank Monack, is Summoned to Colors

WILL GO AS POLICE RESERVE

Was Formerly an Officer in the Gendarmes of Italy and Will be Required to do Police Duty Upon His Return to Native Land.

Though a somewhat general call to arms in Italy has been issued to Italians in western Pennsylvania, there has been so far as is known only one Charleroi man summoned. This is Frank Monack who is connected with the Monack Bros., wholesale fruit and produce house on McKean avenue. Mr. Monack has been summoned as a police reserve, having been formerly a vice brigadier of the gendarmes in Italy. He will hardly be called to the front of the battle line. Mr. Monack will depart on August 10 to sail from New York on August 12. His family is already in Italy.

In answer to a call sent out by the Italian consul general of New York, through subordinates in Fayette county a number of Italians have been leaving the Uniontown and Connellsville district during the last few days. The Italians there have been thrown into a fever of excitement and it is known that at least 50 men in the Uniontown vicinity are ready to leave.

At the call of G. Natali at Pittsburg 25 Connellsville Italians will leave next Sunday for New York, from where they will sail on an Italian vessel for Italy to serve as reservists.

Several days ago a party of about nine Italians from the Monongahela valley, including one from Monessen departed for Italy, intending to enlist with their colors.

The call to arms is of particular importance to men who intend at some time to return to their homes as the Italian laws provide that any Italian eligible for military service who does not report by August 31 will be forever barred from his native land unless he wishes to risk imprisonment for from seven to 10 years.

PEACH ROT FEARED BY GROWERS IN WESTERN PART OF COUNTY

Spray Being Used to Prevent Fruit Diseases Coming From Excessive Rains and Hot Weather.

Peach growers through the western part of Washington county fear that havoc will be played with this year's crop by peach rot. The exceedingly heavy rains, alternating with the extremely hot weather of the past week or so make conditions highly favorable for the development of what is known among peach growers and orchardists as "brown rot." It is very destructive once it gets started.

Many farmers are using a solution of boiled lime sulphide as a spray. It is said to be very effective if used at least four weeks before the peaches are ripe.

ASSESSORS WILL GET INSTRUCTIONS

Important Convention Will Be Held at the County Seat Friday, August 20

FALL ASSESSMENT IMPORTANT

Announcement is being made that a convention of assessors of Washington county will be held at the public meeting room of the court house, at Washington, on Friday, August 20. The convention is being called by the county commissioners for the purpose of instructing the assessors in their duties this fall in making the triennial assessment. The present board of commissioners will have supervision of the assessment, and the incoming board, which will take office the first of the year will sit as a board to review and revise.

The commissioners realize that the assessment this year will be one of the most important ever made in Washington county. Each time the task, which is carried on by close to 100 assessors becomes more onerous, and an understanding that requires care and distinction. The present commissioners realizing this, hope to be able from their experience in the commissioners' office to give the assessors a lot of pointers and to so instruct them that their work will be done with more than ordinary care and precision, as well as with the utmost fairness to everyone concerned.

In connection with the coming assessment it is interesting to learn that the owners—either individuals or coal companies—of approximately 50 per cent of the coal land in Washington county are or have been recently in the hands of receivers. The condition is at least unusual and indicates that there must be the greatest care exercised not to unduly or unfairly burden any individual or corporation.

At the same time the commissioners desire to have property values determined on an equitable basis and to eli-

HOUSE DAMAGED, ONE HURT BY MOTOR TRUCK

Heavy Cook Transfer Company Truck Plunges Into Dwelling Of Mrs. Carson on Fourth Street When Rope by Which it is Being Pulled Breaks

When the hugh Cook motor truck from Monessen broke loose from the auto which was pulling it up Fourth street shortly before 12 o'clock, it shot backwards into the side of the house at the corner of Fourth street owned and occupied by Mrs. Elmina B. Carson, and broke through the weatherboarding. A hole in the side of the house possibly 10 feet square was the result. Mrs. Jewell, of Speers, who had been doing some work for Mrs. Carson was sitting in the dining room at the time the crash came, and a piece of falling wood or broken glass striking her on the head caused a scalp wound that required the attention of a physician.

Gus Clements, from a local garage was driving the automobile to which the truck was hitched by a double rope. On the seat of the truck to steer it was the regular driver. The truck was being taken to Claybaugh's blacksmith shop on Lincoln avenue for forge work to be done. Just after a good start had been made up the street toward Washington avenue, the strands of the rope parted, and the truck started backward. The driver was unable to control it and the back end shot into the house with tremendous force.

Mrs. Jewell, it was feared at first was seriously if not critically injured, the blow on her head and the shock causing her to collapse.

Mrs. J. Russell Blythe entertained Thursday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock at her home at 414 Washington avenue in honor of Mrs. James Nixon Burden of Orlando, Florida, who is spending two months in Pennsylvania with friends. Diversions of the afternoon were fancy work and contests. Miss Belva Burton and Miss Elma Collins were recipients of pretty gifts that were tributes to their skill in a guessing contest. At 4:30 the guests were invited to the dining room where the table was set with a sumptuous luncheon. Here the hostess was assisted in entertaining by Misses Vena Blythe and Ruth Cook.

COMMISSIONERS GIVE $4,000 FOR MONUMENT

Snug Sum Contributed for the Erection of Tenth Memorial to be Unveiled, if Possible, August 25 With Big Celebration.

The county commissioners have approved the donation of $4,000 towards the erection of a monument at Monongahela, to the Tenth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry and the veterans of the Spanish-American war. The work has been under way for some time and it is expected that the monument, which is an imposing one will be completed within a short time. An excellent program has been arranged for the dedication which will take place August 25 the date of the reunion of the Tenth regiment at Monongahela. An effort is being made by the committee to have a number of speakers of national fame present.

YOUTH LOSES ARM AT WORK AT MONESSEN

Wallace Miller, aged 17 years of North Charleroi, had an arm taken off while at work in the plant of the Pittsburg Steel Products company at Monessen Thursday afternoon. Miller was at work at the straining machine with a tube it seems when the tube broke. His glove caught and his arm was rolled into the machine. Before the machinery could be stopped his arm was badly mangled and torn. Further amputation may be necessary at the Memorial hospital, Monongahela, where the young man was taken.

COMPLAINTS FILED TO HAVE MONONGAHELA RAILWAY OPERATE

Prosecuting Attorney at Morgantown, W. Va., Instructed to Take Case Before Public Service Commission.

The Monongahela county court at Morgantown, W. Va., issued an order commanding Prosecuting Attorney Charles Goodwin and State Attorney General A. A. Lilly to file complaint with the West Virginia public service commission in the name of the county court of Monongalia county against the Buckhannon and Northern Railway company, now known as the Monongahela Railway company to commence the operation of the road and otherwise obey the laws of the state. The road has about 25 miles of track in the county and the line has been completed there since 1912. Complaint has been made that the company secured rights of way through condemnation proceedings and now must put the road in operation.

Ex-Gov William E. Glasscock and Attorney John Purinton, secretary of the Morgantown Business Men's association, were before the court favoring the matter. Wholesalers and retailers claim they are losing business which they should have because the road is not running.

NAMED FOR HIGHER OFFICE

Local Fraters Have Big Job in View For Their Favorite and With Recent Election Results, Believe Him To be One in Line.

Hailed as a conqueror returning triumphantly from recent conquests J. Edward Masters was Thursday night honored with a welcoming reception and smoker, given by his brother Elks at the club house of Charleroi lodge, No. 494 and formally nominated for the highest office in Elksdom, that of grand exalted ruler. Wildly the more than 400 assembled Elks received the suggestion of Mr. Masters' candidacy, realizing his entire right to the high position by reason of his recent elevation to the honor place of grand trustee.

The affair was without a doubt one of the most successful social functions ever held at the local Elks' club house. Visitors were here from numerous points, coming by automobile from Uniontown, Washington, Pittsburg and several Monongahela valley points.

W. R. Gaut was toastmaster for the occasion and in spite of the absence of some of his most dependable speaking talent, presented a program of song, story and speeches that was more than meritorious.

The first speaker was Roland W. Brown of Charleroi lodge, who described the trip to California and the convention under the head of "How We Did It," relating circumstances of the election of J. E. Masters to the position of grand trustee.

"It's a Long, Long Way to California" was an original song introduced and heartily sung by John Jenkins of Charleroi. Songs and story telling by Jenkins in his inimitable way was one of the evening's features.

Judge Robert W. Irwin of Washington was one of the chief speakers of the evening and made an eminently pleasing ten minutes' speech.

Tom P. Sloan of Charleroi, made one of his best speeches his assigned subject being "Sober Thoughts." John A. Elliott of Beaver who had been "kidnapped" for the occasion by Toastmaster Gaut, won eager applause by a neat speech, as did also Assistant District Attorney T. W. H. Fergus of Washington and Homer Woolford of Brownsville. Hugh H. Stanffer of Allegheny lodge in his remarks pleased well the fraters. Gilbert E. Koedel of Donora was called upon and he made a noteworthy speech.

THE SPEED MANIAC

The automobile driver who violates the speed ordinances and regulations gets off very easy when he is fined $10 for the first offense and $25 for the second.

We have too many drivers of high powered motor cars who are able to pay such fines and rather delight to do so, says the Beaver Times.

The state law ought to be amended so that any driver who is found guilty three successive times for a violation of the speed laws, should have his license taken from him for at least six months or a year. This would be a better lesson and more protection to the public than by fining him over and over again for his violations.

The danger from fast and reckless driving of motor cars is too great to permit it to continue. Too many lives are endangered. Society must be protected against the speed maniac as well as against the ordinary insane or criminal classes.

HIGHWAY ADVERTISING

The announcement that political advertising is barred by law from state highways is true and the law does not discriminate in the matter of advertising. It forbids all manner of advertising, the object being to prohibit the disfigurement of the landscape by gaudy and giddy signboards, says the Connellsville Courier.

The law will not be regarded in mercantile circles as a great hardship. This form of advertising has long been on the wane among live merchants. Modern advertising demands something fresher than the weather-beaten bill board by the roadside. It finds the newspaper advertisement, which is made a new and interesting story from day to day, so much superior to every other form of advertising that it is being almost exclusively used.

The highway advertisement must go, and the candidate who depends for political success upon placards tacked on fence posts will find himself as far behind in the race for votes as the merchant who still depends upon this form of advertising in the race for trade.

Referring to entertainment, it might be remarked that Pittsburgh can boast of no better theatrical attractions this summer than can Charleroi. Pittsburgh theatres have been given over to the moving picture world, but it is a fact that no one theatre there has been able to command any better daily or weekly program than the Charleroi theatres, if as good.

Monongahela is to have a Chautauqua next year, but the guarantee will be smaller and will be the pledge of a smaller number of guarantors. Perhaps this may be an improvement on the old high guarantee arrangement. Let us hardly believe the million for Chautauqua has yet been reached.

Crest avenue property owners would like occasionally to have their streets cleaned. To be sure! And by the way, wonder if anyone has thought of the probable inadequacy of the street cleaning apparatus upon the completion of the present paving work.

"When the late O'Donovan Rossa, the Irishman, was in New York, the Irish were pretty bad repulse among us. On the hotel lobby one day a man attached the O'Donovan Rossa name to the door and he wound up by shouting: 'Shoo! You an Irishman, and I'll show you a coward!'"

"While the crowd was applauding the statement O'Donovan Rossa got up slowly from his rocking chair and walked to the speaker.

"What did you say, friend?" he asked.

"The orator started, he bit his lip, then he repeated in low tremulous tones:

"I said show me an Irishman and I'll show you a coward!"

"I'm an Irishman!" shouted O'Donovan Rossa fiercely.

"And I'm a coward," said the other man, and he turned and dashed out of the door and the Broadway crowd swallowed him up.

Three-year-old David had been unusually unruly. He had received reprimands, threats and finally mild corporal punishment from his father. With wounded dignity David mounted the stairs to his mother's room.

"Mother," he said in a voice of exasperation. "I can't stand that husband of yours much longer."

whole reception was arranged was heartily cheered when he was called upon for an address. He thanked the members of Charleroi lodge as well as the visiting brothers for their hearty support and for their interest and assured them of a good regime in his present office of grand trustee. His remarks were well received.

Music was one of the most enjoyable features of the evening. Walter Vaughn of Fayette City, a vocalist of extraordinary ability rendered various selections. He was at his best and as one remarked, never was such singing heard within the walls of the Elks' home here. The Jenkins orchestra regaled with selections during the evening.

A letter of regret was received from Hon. J. K. Tener who was to have been a speaker in which he declared that only the most pressing business detained him in New York and prevented him from being present. A letter was received from William John Francis, also to have been a speaker, expressing his regret at his inability to be present. State Executive Controller Samuel C. Todd expressed by telegram his regrets at being unable to be present and to make his address as programmed and Kerfoot W. Daly of Charleroi sent two telegrams of regret from Chicago.

The description holds good today, for there are said to be 70 languages spoken in the streets of the ancient city by representatives of so many nations.

SOME OTHER MAN'S PARCEL

Commuter Made Profitable Exchange, but Probably Man Who Got the Cat Was Peeved.

A man once lived in Montclair, N. J., whose wife had a pet cat. On a wintry day the cat died. So wintry was the day that the cat could not be buried, for the ground was frozen hard.

To get rid of the body the man determined to bring it with him when he went to New York to business. So he wrapped it up neatly in brown paper, and, on getting into his train, put it gently on the hatrack, with the firm intention of forgetting all about it. When he reached the terminus he walked rapidly out of the train, but was barely on the platform when a kindly old gentleman overtook him.

"Your parcel, I think, sir," said he pleasantly, and the man from Montclair thanked him most politely.

All day long the parcel containing the dead cat lay in his office. In the evening he took it home, placing it again in the hatrack and again carefully forgetting it. But again a fellow passenger warned him of his carelessness. Finally he reached home in a not very pleasant frame of mind, and flung the irksome parcel on the kitchen table.

Later on the wife entered the kitchen. The parcel aroused her curiosity, for her husband had said nothing about his failure to bury the cat. She opened it, and discovered three tenderloin steaks!

Solves Secret of Ages.

A New York man advertised the other day for red-haired girls, and a woman writer asked him why he preferred girls with red hair. "Surely they are not prettier," she ventured to remark, "and the ages have not proved them better or brighter. In fact, they are noted for their tempers." "Well, it's this way," explained the employer. "There are so many brunettes and blondes, and when you have a red-haired girl in your office you feel as though you had a girl who is just a little different from the common run. Something exclusive." But are they different? asked the woman. "No," said the man. "But you always feel they are going to be." So the secret of the ages is solved.

Swatting the Fly in Korea.

The Japanese administration in Korea has been making strenuous endeavors to stamp out the housefly and its attendant ills, according to an official report received here. The American slogan of "Swat the Fly" was not considered sufficiently forcible to stimulate the oriental imagination, so the administration hit upon the idea of buying flies from the populace, using the slogan, "Sell the Fly." The official report, which is headlined "Purchase of Flies from Natives by Government Officials," does not state the price paid, or the result of the crusade.

Chesterfield Outdone.

"Wonderful!" said Dubbon, enthusiastically, as he gazed at the new Garraway baby.

"Do you wonder I am proud of him?" said Mrs. Garraway.

"No, madam, I do not," said Dubbon. "Indeed, I realize more than ever now the truth of the old saying that a woman's crowning glory is her heir." —Judge.

Had Lung Trouble and Expected to Die

The many recoveries brought about by Eckman's Alternative are attracting wide attention. Read about this case—

W. W. Keyser, W. Va. "Gentlemen—I was taken sick in November, 1905. I grew steadily worse. Had two consultations. The result was the fever and coughing my lungs and that my case was hopeless; only gave me two months to live. My physician had tried every kind of treatment and none did me any good, so he asked my husband if he objected to him trying Eckman's Alternative. I was in bed from November 30, 1905, until February 25, 1906, and was thought dying several times. Today I am healthier and stronger than ever." (Abbreviated.)

(Signed) MRS. H. K. BRILEY. Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and in relieving the asthmatic and coughing. AMONG THE THEATRES

PALACE—CHARLEROI

One of the biggest features the Palace theatre has presented in weeks was that on Monday of the great five-reel photoplay, "Midnight at Maxims." With a chorus of 500 and with some of the best effects obtainable in moving picture work, the presentation was surpassingly good. On Wednesday the big feature at the Palace was "Little Miss Betty," a photoplay of attractive parts. The vaudeville headliner the latter part of the week at the Palace is the Roberti Animal show, which had its first presentation Thursday night. The act was one produced at the Grand theatre, in Pittsburg, on different occasions. Other acts are especially meritorious. Watts and Lucas and the dancing Deamon and the India rubber girl, gave dancing exhibitions and Jessamine entertains with the latest songs, stories and bits of comedy.

MAJESTIC—CHARLEROI

The Majestic theatre program this week included high class films, and one of the best of them was that on Monday, the first day of the week, "The Mating." This was a production in five parts produced by the Mutual Film corporation. Bessie Bariscalo was in the leading role, and was at her best. "Love's Way" was another good Monday picture. On Wednesday there was a big feature in "The Carpet from Bagdad," in five parts. Kathryn Williams was seen at her best in the leading role in this Selig production. On Tuesday one of the best films was that of the serial, "Who Pays?" This is a Pathe picture, and this week's version was in two parts. "The Diamond From the Sky" was the Thursday feature, the twelfth chapter of this excellent story being narrated. Another Thursday picture of excellent parts was that of "The Tragedy of Crystal Globe," in three reels.

COYLE—CHARLEROI

A feature each day is the program at the Coyle theatre and the past week this was carried out with a number of excellent pictures. On Monday the featuring picture was "The Devil," Tuesday "The Arab" an interesting picture in which the principal scenes were beauty spots of the northern part of Africa. "Greater Love Hath No Man" was the title of an excellent photoplay presented Wednesday. Hazel Dawn, the ever popular star enacted the leading role in "Clarissa" a five part comedy taken from the book "The Gambler's Advocate." Friday Marie Cahill was featured in the five part comedy picture "Judy Forgot." Announcement for the pictures for the coming week include Batty Nansen in "Should a Mother Tell?" for Monday and for Tuesday John Barrymore in "The Dictator."

TREASURER DOWNER MAKES

REPORT OF TAXES RECEIVED
County Treasurer S. M. Downer reports that the amount of taxes paid in the treasurer's office during July, on which an abatement of five per cent was made, amounts to $154,488.81. This does not include taxes received during the month at banks at Finleyville, Monongahela, Donora, Charleroi, California, West Brownsville, Fredericktown, Beallsville, Canonsburg, McDonald, Burgettstown, West Alexander, Avella, Tylersdale.

$800 for Partridge Dinner.
Partridge dinners came exceedingly high to three of the residents of Balmville, a suburb of Newburgh, N. Y. Penalties aggregating $1,150 have been imposed on them by the state game department for having violated the law in buying partridge, which is prohibited at all times.

The three offenders were Mrs. F. Delano Hitch, who is active in philanthropic work; Frank V. Burton and Dr. S. A. Walgren. Mrs. Hitch suffering the heaviest penalty, paying $800.

This is said to be the heaviest fine ever imposed for an offense of that kind in this state. The partridge were sold by Mrs. Chauncey Ferguson for her husband, who shot them. Mrs. Ferguson gave information which led to the imposing of the penalties.

New Old Slang.
Modern slang isn't necessarily new. It has been pointed out lately that "good night" in its modern slang sense, appears in Shakespeare in "Henry IV," part 1: Worcester, speaking of the danger of the conspiracy (act 1, scene 3), refers to the peril of one who should attempt to overwall "a current roaring loud, on the unsteady footing of a spear." Hotspur continues, "If he fall in, good night!"

In connection with the Washington anniversary it may be recorded that as a young man Washington wrote: "I heard the bullets whistle, and, believe me, there is something charming in the sound." That "believe me" is almost modern enough for a moving picture show.

Immune From Typhoid Fever.
Sir Frederick Treves, chief of the British army medical service, reports that up to January 26 there had been 35 deaths from typhoid among the British soldiers at the front. Of these 35, 34 had not been protected by antityphoid vaccination. The single case of death in a vaccinated man was of one who had received only the first dose.

Of 20,000 Australian troops receiving the protective inoculation, Surgeon General Williams reports: "Not one single case showed any after-symptom which could be considered worthy of consideration. Not a man had to be taken off duty; drills and exercises proceeded as usual."

Pardonable Ignorance.
The Kansas City Girl—Don't you have any jitneys here?
The Cleveland Girl—What are they?
The K. C. Girl—Why, they're five-cent automobiles.

The Cleveland Girl—Oh, yes, I know the kind. Our next-door neighbor has one and they joke him so much about it that he only brings it out after dark.

No Late Hours There.
Guest—What possessed you to move away off here to the extreme edge of the city?
Host—The trolley cars stop running at 10 p. m.

"What of that?"
"Wait till you see my pretty daughters."—New York Weekly
